

INDIANA UNIVERSITY BLOOMINGTON

21ST CENTURY SCHOLARS PROGRAM

DIVERSITY, EQUITY & MULTICULTURAL AFFAIRS

February 7, 2020

Hello Scholars,

If you were unable to attend the orientation at the beginning of the semester and attended a make-up orientation this past week thank you! There were so many of you at the first session we got a bigger room for the second one. We know that you are busy but we must make sure you are aware of the requirements to keep your scholarship as well as keep you informed about all the opportunities here on campus. We always ask for your feedback after the session because we are very conscientious about wanting to make the meetings as efficient as possible in conveying all the information you need.

This past Sunday, myself, our Leadership Corps President Dakota Suomela and Lisa Huffman, our Special Projects Coordinator, all met with future Hoosier Scholars in Indianapolis to talk about what we have to offer here at IU – We are hopeful all the prospects will #chooseIU like you all did!

Check out Dakota's video snippet to see how you can represent the IUB 21st Century Scholars Program to prospective Scholars at events like the Scholarship Reception and get valuable leadership training by joining the Ambassador Division of 21st Century Scholars Leadership Corps. The first general meeting is this coming Tuesday at 6pm in GA 0005—come find out what it's all about and see if this group is for you!

Following the trip on Sunday, AmeriCorps ScholarCorps members Nikkesha D. Davenport, and Derrick Robinson and I attended an Indiana Commission for Higher Education AmeriCorps ScholarCorps training with various other institutions in the State of Indiana at Marian University-Indianapolis. These types of trainings help us learn how to best serve our students! (If you attended the make-up orientation this week Derrick and Nikki were your presenters!)

Another excellent opportunity here at IU are special scholarships offered especially to you as a 21st Century Scholar to Study Abroad. Just this past week a new Summer opportunity was announced for Mexico (scroll down) and applications are still being taken for Rwanda up until this Monday Feb. 10th to be considered for a scholarship.

We have a career networking event coming up that is here at 300 N. Jordan in the Program Room that is located on the first floor. The date is February 11th—at 5:30pm. This will be another great opportunity to meet career coaches and senior students representing many different schools across campus. Plus, there will be food! Let's make your career goals a reality! You do need to RSVP as soon as possible to Rachel Boveja at rboveja@iu.edu if you can make it. Miss this one? We have another social event mixer coming up on the 20th!
